Atlantic Electropoise: Gentlemen—for the past fire years my wife has been a sufferer from dyspecia. So completely did the disease make a work of her former self that life was almost despeted of. Her nervous system was almost endrely destroyed, and the slightest noise would throw her into a nervous system, which would last for hears. Medical skill failed to bring any re-

Hef.

Through the recommendation of an eminent dwine we were induced to try the Elect-opoise. After a parsistent use of the justrument, the effect After a parasisent use of the instrument, the elections been restored to its almost nermal condition; her digestion is wonderfully improved; she is rapidly geding in flosh; and, upon the whole, is making a rapid recovery, which speaks volumes for the wonderful carative cowers of the Electropoise, as her case was considered hopeless. If any are depical on the subject, let them try the Electropoise, and its wonderful powers will quickly dispoise, and its wonderful powers will quickly dis-pai all doubt. Yours truly, W. M. PEOPST.

Valueless Insurance

Another claim has been made against the State of Virginia Insurance Company, the insurance fraud which has already been exposed by the Herald.

The new claimant against the company is Jacob Futoraneky, a clothier, whose stock was destroyed by fire on September 6 The clothier was insured in the Virginia company for $1 325, and claims that his loss amounts to $750, and that he obtained his policy from and paid his premiums to Insur-ance Broker Charles W. Peasley. Futoransky alleges that he has been unable to obtain any settlement through Pensley, and has engaged lawyers to secure the money from either the company or its agents.

At a commercial agency I learned these general facts about the concern: The company's statement says that it was incorporated in January, 1888, with an authorized capital of $250,000. The incorporators were M. J. Ashe, E. W. Newman and ators were M. J. Ashe, E. W. Newman and W. H. Price.

In April, 1888, they claimed to have: Cash paid in, $112,000; stockholders' notes, indorsed, $138,000; real estate, including the company's office building, $75,000; office furniture, $2,700, and cash, $4,200

The spency reported that this statement could not be confirmed; that the only real estate owned by the "company" was one house in Alexandria, Va., which was hought for $3,200, and all of that was not paid. At the company's office it was said that the other real estate was in New York, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky, but the company's officials did not give the exact location of the properties. tion of the properties.

The report went on to say that the com-pany had no cash in the local banks and that "it seemed to be the opinion of many people in Alexandria that the company existed only on paper;" also that no informa-tion was obtainable which showed the company to be responsible, and that, "so far as could be learned, they had not attempted to do any business in Alexandria."

to do any business in Alexandria."

The company is in no way connected with the Virginia State Insurance Company, of Richmond, Va.

I saw Mr. Peasley yesterday, and he explained to me that he had cassed writing policies for the State of Virginia Insurance Company since last May, though he had forwarded them premiums paid on outstanding policies as late as Angast. He said he ing policies as late as August. He said he had floished with the Virginia company because he had beard it was not sound.
"The fact is," said Mr. Peasiey, "that the money claimed by Fatoransky is not due for nearly sixty days yet, and the company may settle before that time on an equitable basis. certainly settled all the claims I sen them in other cases.

"The trouble is no insurance company in this city will insure this east side property and hardly any company will take a risk on second hand clothing. For that reason I have to get the best companies I can who will write such policies. I look over their printed statement and that is about all the investigation I can undertake. Such insurers do not expect the ful! amount of their Insurance, but take what they can get."N. Y. Herald of Sunday.

THE KEY OF DEATH:-About the year 1600 a stranger named Tebaldo, established himself as a merchant in Venice. Soon becoming infatuated with the daughter of one of the most accient and wealthy families, he asked her hand and was rejected, the young lady being already affianced. Half crazed and thoroughly enraged, he planned revenge. Being an excellent mechanic he soon evolved a most fomidable looking key. The bandle of this unique weapon could be easily turned. Being turned it disclosed a spring with a missile in the shape of a needle of exquisite fineness. With this weapon Tebaldo waited at the church door weapon Tebaldo waited at the church door until the maiden he loved passed in on the morning of her marriage. When the bride-groom appeared the desperate lover, unperceived, sent the slander poisoned needle into his rival's breast, and within an hour he was dead of a "strange, biffling disease." Again Tebaldo demanded the hand of the maiden but was refused. Within a few days both her parents had died in a very mysterious manner. Su picton being excitled, examination was made, and the small steel instruments found in the flesh in both cases. One day the maiden flesh in both cases. One day the maiden allowed Tebaldo an audience, but told him she would never be his bride. Within an hourshe was a corpse. Tebaldo was suspected, the key discovered, and the culprit hanged. The celebrated "key of death" is still shown to the curious visitor of the Venice Museum.—St Louis Republic.
